

Reflections on Race and Medicine in the era of COVID-19

Damon Tweedy, MD

Associate Professor of Psychiatry
Duke University School of Medicine
Staff Psychiatrist
Durham Veteran Affairs Health Care System

Monday, June 29, 2020 NOON – 1:00 p.m.

Register in advance for this meeting:

<https://uic.zoom.us/meeting/register/tJwqdOmqqT4pH9VhFWdC7BLe0xgboYzPw1q>

Dr. Tweedy has written extensively about the intersection of race and medicine, both in academic journals and in popular print publications. His 2015 book, Black Man in a White Coat: A Doctor's Reflections on Race and Medicine, made the New York Times bestseller list and was selected by TIME Magazine as a top non-fiction book that year.

DEPARTMENT OF
MEDICINE
COLLEGE OF
MEDICINE

